Name the problem, then the rules.

Commerce Township, Michigan lists what neighbors have reported, says why it matters, and, with the sheriff's office, shares a safety memo: where you can ride and what counts as an e-bike.

NEW ORDINANCE, ONE GRAPHIC

Answer every question on one page.

At the October Common Council meeting, the unanimous decision was made to pass the Ordinance 1157-2026. This ordinance repeals and recreates §397-14 of the City of Mayville Municipal Code relating to bicycles, electric bicycles, play vehicles, and electric micromobility devices.

The City will be sharing some information to help residents navigate this new ordinance. In the meantime, you can view the full ordinance here: https://wi-mayville.civicplus.com/…/Public-Notice-Ordinance…

Mayville, Wisconsin posted its new ordinance as a single graphic: the enforcement date, the e-bike classes, age and helmet rules, and where you can ride, with a link to the full text.

BORROW THESE

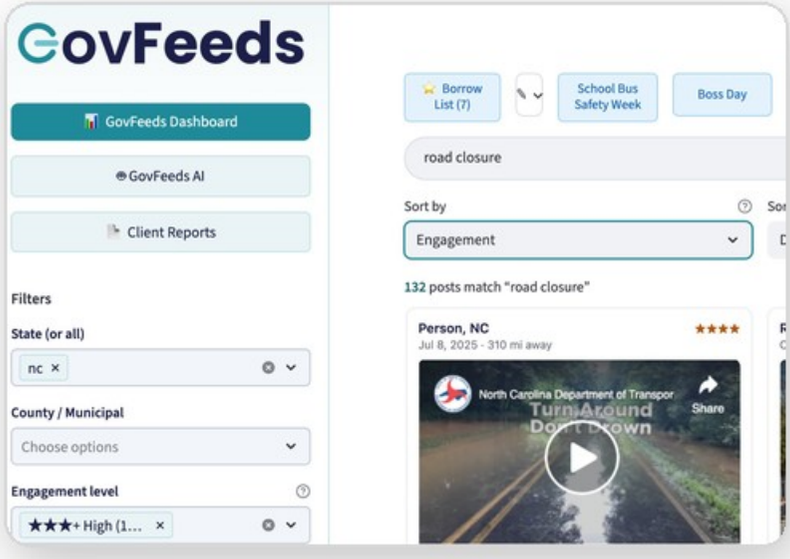

What both posts include

- The date it starts
  When the rule takes effect or enforcement begins.
- What counts
  E-bike classes, scooters, e-motos. Residents mix them up.
- Where you can ride
  Streets, sidewalks, trails, parks. Say which.
- Why it matters
  The safety concern behind the rule, in plain words.
