

MEASURED THIS WEEK · U.S. LOCAL GOVERNMENT

We measured

156,062

local-government posts.

The best performers keep doing 4 things
— and 3 pieces of standard advice don't hold up.

1

+197%

Name the person.

Posts naming an officer, chief, mayor, or firefighter earn nearly 3× the reactions.

Names someone

Doesn't

AVG REACTIONS PER POST · LAST 7 WEEKS

2

+128%

Celebrate something.

Welcomes, retirements, milestones, congratulations — celebration posts more than double the average.

Celebrates

62

Doesn't

27

AVG REACTIONS PER POST · LAST 7 WEEKS

3

+106%

Talk about the photo.

Posts that reference the photo they're sharing ("pictured", "photos from...") double engagement.

References photo

Doesn't

AVG REACTIONS PER POST · LAST 7 WEEKS

4

+91%

Say thank you.

Gratitude posts — thanking crews, volunteers, residents — nearly double the typical post.

Says thanks

Doesn't

AVG REACTIONS PER POST · LAST 7 WEEKS

AND THE MYTHS

What didn't hold up:

“Ask questions!”

–5% — questions don't lift reactions

“Always add a link”

–13% — links in the text cost reach

“Keep it short”

–44% — under-280-character posts underperform

See how your posts stack up against peer governments — free:

govfeeds.com

GovFeeds