

FOR YOUR NEXT REPORT UP

5 benchmarks to cite in your council report.

Measured this week across 5,000+ U.S.
local-government pages — so your numbers have context.

1

The typical post earns 6 reactions.

That's the national median. A post at 10+ is genuinely above typical — say so in the report.

MEDIAN REACTIONS PER POST

2

The typical government posts 4–5 times a week.

A third of governments post 3 times or fewer. Cadence context beats raw counts.

MEDIAN POSTS PER WEEK · 4,431 PAGES

3

Events content engages most — median 10.

Animal services and public safety follow at 9. If events lead your calendar, your mix matches what residents respond to.

MEDIAN REACTIONS BY THEME

4

Meeting & board notices engage least — median 3.

They're also among the most-posted. Necessary content, but don't judge your page by it — and don't let it crowd out the rest.

21,634 GOVERNMENT-INFO POSTS MEASURED

5

Report shares, not just likes.

56% of local-government posts earn at least one share; only 34% earn a comment. Residents forward civic information — every share is your message traveling without extra budget.

Want these benchmarks for YOUR page, ready to hand up? That's the monthly report — free sample at govfeeds.com